

FIRE EXTINGUISHER – PORTABLE

CSUDH has provided portable fire extinguishers throughout the campus. They are located in areas where they could be used in extinguishing small fires of almost any type. An instructional program is provided to those who want to familiarize themselves with the general principles of fire extinguisher use and the hazards involved with initial stage fire fighting. Employees are not required to extinguish fires on campus and are therefore not required to participate in this training program. However, for those who wish to extinguish small fires on campus, such as Floor Wardens, Building Wardens, Maintenance Staff, initial training is required before an employee can safely use a portable fire extinguisher. Annual training is provided with by the local Fire Department personnel or our fire extinguisher servicing company in the month of March for those who volunteer to be in the instructional, hand-on, program.

The training program includes:

- Training in the use of appropriate equipment (extinguishers)
- Initial training to the designated group of employees and annually thereafter
