

Assignment #2
“Early Infancy”

The purpose of this essay is to assess your understanding regarding the milestones that a child during early infancy (i.e., between 0 – 24 months) is experiencing physically, cognitively, and psychologically. Pretend that the following happened to you:

After taking PSY 350 (Child Psychology), you seek employment at a toy manufacturing company. The first project that you are given is to design a toy mobile. In order to complete this assignment, you will have to use what you learned in this course and write a short essay (approximately 3-5 pages, double-spaced, 12 pt. font, 1 in. margins, and typed) that describes how your toy mobile will stimulate an infant’s sensory, physical, and cognitive abilities. Your essay should include an introduction with a thesis statement, body, and conclusion.

- a. For what age(s), will this toy mobile be designed?
- b. Describe your toy mobile with as much detail as possible.
- c. What sensory, physical, and cognitive abilities will your toy mobile take into account?
- d. Within the introduction of your essay, highlight your thesis statement using a yellow highlighter.
