Faculty Workload and Size

Maintaining high standards of instructional quality is a central priority of this institution. In order to uphold these standards in classes with large enrollments, significant time and effort are required by members of the faculty. To maintain the quality of instruction, members of the Dominguez Hills faculty who teach large classes are eligible to receive additional instructional support, professional allowances, and weighted teaching unit (WTU) credit for their work.

I. The following incentives are established for faculty who instruct large classes:

1. Additional WTU Credit
2. Reader Support
3. Teaching Assistant Support
4. OE Funding
5. Travel Allowances
6. Professional Development Allowances
