Moratorium for Proposals in Campus-wide Sharing Stage:

The Campus-wide Sharing section of the Curriculum Register contains only a summary of the curriculum proposal. There will be a 10 working-day moratorium, starting from the publication date of the Curriculum Register, during which departments, deans, or individual faculty may raise objections or concerns to the proposing faculty and College Curriculum Committee.

After the College Curriculum Committee has been contacted with objection, the objector has 10-working days to review the entire proposal and submit a formal objection in writing.

Moratorium Date: March 3, 2020

Once the moratorium date has passed for campus-wide sharing and no objections are received, the proposal will continue through the stages of the curriculum review process.

The Office of Academic Programs produces the Curriculum Register. Any questions or comments should be directed to the Office of Academic Programs at creview@csudh.edu or at (310) 243-3308.

Program/Course: B.S. in Business Administration – Entrepreneurship Concentration

Proposer: William David Brice

Type of Change: Program Modification

Summary of changes: The following changes are proposed for the B.S. in Business Administration – Entrepreneurship Concentration:

1. Added to the list of required courses:
 - a. ACC 385 - Entrepreneurial Accounting

Program/Course: B.S. in Applied Studies

Proposer: Thomas Norman

Type of Change: Program Modification

Summary of Changes: The Applied Studies title has very little meaning to prospective students or even current students or alumni. Named decades ago, the current title does not describe clearly the curriculum or learning outcomes of the major putting graduates at a disadvantage. The most recent external program review recommended that the title be changed to better communicate the skills and knowledge obtained by its students. The program spent two years considering various names that reflected the content and settled on Organizational Leadership Studies. This program has modest enrollment, but the change of name combined with the last year's updating of the curriculum and revising marketing and outreach plans are expected to enhance the utility and attractiveness of this major.

The program is also modifying the required courses in the tracks. The original intent is to give students a sense of where they can focus their coursework towards; however, creating the required courses component mirrored having a concentration without showing the title in diploma or transcript. A greater workload was caused with the creation of new academic plan codes and staff having to monitor correct plan codes in student reports.

College of Education

Program/Course: M.S. in Counseling

Proposer: Adriean Mancillas

Type of Change: Program Modification

Summary of Changes: In order to meet the new PPS standards adopted by our accrediting body, CCTC, we need to implement a new course in counseling leadership. Most of the required modifications we need to make for alignment with the new standards will be able to be made within our existing courses. However, the proposed new course and two course deletions will be necessary to best restructure the program and offer needed curriculum. In this realignment, we wish to bring our existing School Counseling Fieldwork course into the MS degree requirement. The proposed curricular modifications will allow our program to be compliant and up to date with the new standards for School Counselors.

Program/Course: PPS 501 Leadership in School and College Counseling

Proposer: Adriean Mancillas

Type of Change: New Course

Summary of Changes: The MS Counseling / PPS Credential program proposes to create a new required course for the MS degree, PPS credential, and College Counseling Certificate in order to meet the new School Counseling credentialing standards required by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC).

The MS Counseling program is accredited by the CCTC to offer the Pupil Personnel Services (PPS) credential in School Counseling. CCTC has recently adopted new standards for the PPS credential that require our program to make curricular modifications in order to be compliant and up to date with the new standards for School Counselors.

The new course being proposed is PPS 501 Leadership in School and College Counseling. Presenting the topic of leadership as a primary focus in a course is long overdue in our program and now that there are numerous PPS standards requiring that we formally address leadership, the timing is such that we need to offer a dedicated course. The course will examine the roles of the counselor within the field of school and college counseling, including the counselor as leader and advocate for students, community, and the counseling profession. Leadership and professionalism will be explored against the context of the history and foundations of the profession, the core requirements necessary to become school and college counselors, and the various employment opportunities and settings in educational counseling.

College of Extended & International Education

The College of Extended & International Education did not submit any proposals to publish in the February register.

College of Health, Human Services, & Nursing

Program/Course: M.S. in Marital and Family Therapy

Proposer: Monique Willis

Type of Change: Program and Course Modifications

Summary of Changes: The department of Marital and Family Therapy (MFT) is proposing and seeking approval to modify its existing Masters of Science in Marital and Family Therapy program currently under curriculum review. The existing master's degree program is a qualifying degree program for the Board of Behavioral Sciences (BBS) that meets the requirements stipulated in Business and Professional Code 4980.36 required for license or registration for marriage and family therapists. The MFT department is seeking to amend the program and courses to satisfy new legislation and course requirements stipulated by the BBS for marriage and family therapist and a professional clinical counselor. The proposed modifications will meet standards necessary for the BBS and further adheres to the coursework essential for eligibility for the Commission on Accreditation for Marriage and Family Therapy Education (COAMFTE). The proposed new and modified courses support the program's interest in pursuing COAMFTE, a recognized provider of quality assurance of higher education in marriage and family therapy. This accreditation for the department of Marital and Family adds significant standing to the program.

The proposed changes for the MFT program include the following program changes:

1. Change from 60-unit program to the 63-unit program. Justification for the change is that BBS requires three-course units for core content area courses; therefore, the overall program units increased by two academic units. The duration of the program will remain either a 3-year or 2.5-year program, and consequently, this unit increase does not increase the tuition for full-time graduate students.
2. Other changes include one advance course and course description changes required to meet new requirements for the BBS. The rationale for the new course and course modifications align with COAMFTE's eligibility requirements.
3. The following table outlines the program and course changes:

Program/Course	Type of Change	Summary of Change
1. MFT Program	Program Modification	Unit Change: Current program is 60- units; the proposed change includes 63- units. The (BBS) requires that MFT programs maintain at least 60- units for a semester program. The program will meet the BBS's minimum unit requirements.
2. MFT 500: Introduction to Marital and Family Therapy	Discontinuation	This course is an introductory course, previously taught during the summer prior to students admitted into the MFT program. The introductory content will be covered in other introductory courses taught in the first term of the program. The program is proposing an advance course that satisfies the requirements of the BBS for advance coursework.

3. MFT 520: Group Therapy	Course Modification	Units increased from 2 units to 3 units to reflect BBS requirement.
4. MFT 525: Pre-Practicum II: Advanced Theory Skills	Course Modification	Course description modified to include attention to mental health settings, safety planning, clinical documentation and assessment.
5. MFT 530: Community Mental Health	Course Modification	Course description modified to include mental health recovery-oriented care and resilience, and case management of systems of care.
6. MFT 560: Life Span, Family Development and Aging	Course Modification	Course description modified to include socioeconomics and long-term care.
7. MFT 565: Assessment and Treatment in Marital Family Therapy	Course Modification	Course title changed to Assessment and Mental Health Treatment. Course description modified to include suicide risk assessment and intervention (six-clock hours).
8. MFT 575: Treatment approaches with children and Adolescents	Course Modification	Course description modified to include child abuse assessment and reporting (seven- clock hours).
9. MFT 578: Multi-diversity and Marginalized Communities	Course Modification	Course description modified to include (culture, religion, spirituality, gender, sexual orientation, socioeconomics, ability and health) situated in diverse populations in California.
10. MFT 582: Psychopharmacology and Mental Health Treatment	Course Modification	Units increased from 2 units to 3 units to reflect BBS requirement.
11. MFT 583: Research Methods in Marital and Family Therapy	Course Modification	Course Number Change from MFT 589 to MFT 583.
12. MFT 589: Advanced Therapeutic Approaches and Application	New Course	This course is an advance class that meets the BBS's requirement of advanced coursework: This course will focus on integration and application of therapy approaches. The course description will be: An inclusive survey of major theoretical approaches, integrative psychotherapies, evidenced- based practice, research, legal and ethical issues applied to individuals, couples and families. Case conceptualization, diagnosis, assessment, treatment planning and interventions are demonstrated utilizing vignettes, video demonstration and role play. The course will be taken during the last term prior to the comprehensive exam.
