Joint Statement on Shared Governance

PM 2020-01

- An effective system of shared governance within a university recognizes that the President, has ultimate authority and responsibility for decisions affecting the institution. The same system recognizes that the university benefits from a process of collaboration, meaningful consultation, and a spirit of collegiality wherein trust, collaboration, transparency, inclusiveness, honesty, integrity, and broad communication are essential. Effective shared governance creates a "healthy campus, strengthens the quality of leadership and decision making ... enhances its ability to achieve its vision and to meet strategic goals, and increases the odds that the very best thinking by all parties to shared governance is brought to bear on institutional challenges." This collaborative work manifests primarily as shared governance informed by robust consultation.

- At California State University, Dominguez Hills, our core values recognize the value of collaboration of all segments of the campus; thus, we include staff in our vision of shared governance. 7 In this context, shared governance refers to a process of joint decision-making and consultation between administration and faculty but also staff and students through our shared governance structures of the Academic Senate and the Associated Students, Inc. and related committee structures such as the University Budget Committee.

- Robust consultation between the administration and the Academic Senate and the Associated Students, Inc. and when appropriate other related committees should provide consensus, and adverse review or final decision should be exercised only in exceptional circumstances, and for reasons communicated to the faculty, staff, and students. 9 Faculty, staff, and students also are to be consulted on fiscal matters that affect the instructional program of the University as delineated through the University Budget Committee but also through appropriate shared governance structures.

- Consultation between the faculty, staff, students, and the administration within this context is defined as a mutual exchange of information, ideas, opinions, and recommendations from initial formulation to final determination of policy and procedures affecting the operations of those areas where primary responsibility rests with the faculty. Consultation is meaningful if input provided is able to influence outcomes of decision making and reflects the mutuality of all stakeholders' efforts to ensure success.
- Effective and meaningful consultation, to which the Academic Senate, on behalf of the faculty, staff, students, and administration, must be characterized by openness and transparency, respectful dialogue, mutual responsibility, evidence-based problem-solving, and a commitment to being informed about and prepared to discuss relevant issues.
