

Winter Intersession 2018

Session II (Jan. 2-19)

Traditional Mesoamerican Agriculture and Sustainability

Anthropology 495: Special
Topics (3 units)

Travel to Southern Mexico to learn about traditional agricultural practices of rural families and consider these practices in the context of ecological and social sustainability. Course includes 14-day trip to Chiapas, Mexico, (Jan. 4-17) where students conduct ethnoecological fieldwork, visit museums, biological reserves, and archaeological sites.

Costs: $1020 (all fees and travel insurance). Students also pay for their own travel, food, and lodging which typically range from $1100-$1300.

Enrollment begins Oct. 30, deadline for enrolling is Dec. 1

Contact Dr. Gasco for more information, jgasco@csudh.edu or call 310-243-3506