

Dressing for Success

Are you preparing for a job fair, networking event or interview? The next step in is to plan your professional wardrobe. When it comes to interviewing for the job what employers all seem to agree on is this: A well fitted business suit in a solid dark color such as blue, brown, or black is always a good choice for men and women.

The next step in preparing for an interview is to plan your professional wardrobe. When it comes to interviewing for the job what employers all seem to agree on is this: A well fitted business suit in a solid dark color such as blue, brown, or black is always a good choice for men and women.

For a more casual business atmosphere, such as careers in the Arts and Education, business casual attire is appropriate.

