PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

Dear Graduates,

On behalf of the entire California State University, Dominguez Hills family, I offer congratulations to the Class of 2017. We are enormously proud of what you have achieved. Today, we along with your friends and loved ones pay tribute to you and the years you dedicated in pursuit of a college degree.

Commencement marks a special moment in each of your lives, and I encourage you to celebrate and take pride in your unique journey and academic achievement. Today is also a day to recognize and appreciate those who supported you along the way; faculty who pushed you to think deeper, counselors and librarians who offered guidance, staff who provided resources, and family and friends who were always there to encourage you.

This year, approximately 4,000 students will become graduates of this institution, joining more than 100,000 alumni whose education and degrees have helped transform the economic, educational, cultural, and political landscape of our region, state, and nation. In whatever path you take next, whether advancing career aspirations or pursuing new academic goals, I am confident each of you will leave your own mark as well.

I wish you continued happiness and success and hope you reflect warmly on your time at your university. I encourage you to maintain an active connection with your alma mater and reap the benefits of continued engagement with the university, serving as mentors and advocates for new students.

Finally, know that wherever life takes you, you will never be without Cal State Dominguez Hills. You forever have our support, you forever have our respect, and you forever are a Toro.

Make us proud.

CHANCELLOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Class of 2017,

Congratulations on your commencement!

Today, you are in many ways different from the person you were on your first day on campus. In your time at the California State University, you have transformed from someone who learns about innovations in your field into a person who creates them.

Your educational transformation was spurred by your faculty, who trained you to look at the world with a critical eye and an open mind. Their efforts were supported by the work of your counselors, advisors, librarians, tutors, coaches, facilities and support staff who created an encouraging environment for you to succeed. All the while, your family, friends, colleagues and loved ones kept you motivated and saw you through your journey. Your accomplishment today fills all of them—indeed all of us—with pride.

Moving forward, you will face new opportunities with the potential of great success. I am sure that you will excel because you have the skills and connections gained through your education.

From now on, you are part of over three million CSU alumni who are powering California, the nation and the world. These alumni are solving our greatest challenges, educating the next generation, fighting for equality and creating new opportunities for economic prosperity.

CSU alumni are also staying involved with their almae matres and helping in various ways to support the success of current students. Use your connections—both to your school and to other CSU alumni—to expand your opportunities, create access to success for others and make a meaningful impact on your community and the world.

The word we use to commemorate an earned university degree is commencement—or a beginning. This is deliberate. Today is not an end, but rather a new first day. Your hard work and sacrifices will continue to pay dividends far beyond today's celebration both in your life and in the lives of those around you.

the California State Legislature authorized the establishment of the university in 1960 and Governor Edmund G. (Pat) Brown signed it into law on April 29, 1960. At that time, the college was to be known as South Bay State College.

On January 19, 1962, the California State Colleges Board of Trustees appointed Dr. Leo F. Cain as the new college's first president, and later that year tapped prominent California State University, Dominguez Hills is located on a site rich in California history: the 346-acre campus sits on a portion of California's first Spanish land grant, the historic Rancho San Pedro. Granted to Juan José Dominguez for cattle grazing in 1784, the rancho at one point spanned 75,000 acres, from current-day San Pedro to Compton, Manhattan Beach to Long Beach and Paramount. The portion of land from Avalon Boulevard to Central Avenue, University Drive to Victoria Street was in the continuous possession of the Dominguez family through seven generations until its acquisition by the people of the state of California for the home of the university.

The need for a campus in the South Bay region of Los Angeles County became apparent in the late 1950s, fueled by the growth of the aerospace industry and the post-World War II baby boom. In response,

L.A. architect A. Quincy Jones to design the campus. With Palos Verdes as the preferred location, trustees renamed the college California State College at Palos Verdes, and President Cain and a planning committee began developing a dual-major interdisciplinary curriculum, drafting a master plan, and hiring an administration, staff, and faculty.

Despite a lack of consensus on a permanent home—many sites were then under consideration, including in Torrance, Culver City and the Rancho San Pedro land known as Dominguez Hills—CSC Palos Verdes opened its first quarter in a California Federal Savings Bank in Rolling Hills Estates in fall 1965. The schedule of classes consisted of one page offering about 10 classes per quarter. Approximately 50 students were taught by 11 faculty members and administrators.

June 1970: Graduating seniors and faculty parade past dirt mounds on their way to the first commencement on the permanent campus.

The fledgling college began during a turbulent time for Los Angeles. For six days in August 1965, the Watts Rebellion devastated a community, bringing long-standing grievances and inequities to the forefront. During a tour of Watts afterward, Gov. Brown asked to see the Dominguez Hills site just five miles to the south. He is quoted as saying the location would improve access to higher education to the region's minority population. The trustees approved purchase of the site in October 1965 and changed the name to California State College, Dominguez Hills.

The 1966-67 academic year started with 180 students and 20 faculty attending classes in a new temporary site. The Watt campus as it was named in honor of Ray A. Watt, president of the Stevenson Village Company, which owned the land and agreed to construct a building for the university's use, was located on Victoria Street across the street from the future site of the campus. That June, the college held its first commencement with four graduates who had begun taking classes at the bank location as juniors.

In its third year, CSC Dominguez Hills saw its enrollment swell to 470 students; more majors were added, and new student clubs such as the Black Students Union were formed. Official groundbreaking for the permanent campus on the Dominguez Hills land took place in December 1967, and by October 1968, the buildings still referred to today as the Small College Complex opened for classes. The remainder of the initial buildings opened in 1969, followed by the Social and Behavioral Sciences building in fall 1971 and the Educational Resources Center in 1972. The college dedicated its new Natural Sciences and Mathematics building in 1973, and between 1974 and 1975, the Humanities and Fine Arts building, Student Health Center, and Theatre Arts Center opened.

In 1976, upon the announcement of President Cain's retirement, a search for a new president culminated in the appointment of Dr. Donald R. Gerth, who would take the lead of a campus that now enrolled over 6,500 students, qualifying it for university status. In 1977, the California State University Board of Trustees voted to grant university status to the college, and the institution was renamed California State University, Dominguez Hills.

From its beginnings to today, California State University, Dominguez Hills has prided itself on being a diverse community of learners and educators committed to changing lives and communities for the better. The university provides a wide range of outstanding academic programs and opportunities to an annual student body of nearly 15,000.

Today, 50 years since its first commencement with four graduates, the university confers close to 4,000 degrees annually and counts 100,000 individuals as alumni. Our graduates leave with the skills that enable them to become leaders and productive citizens of a diverse and global society.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

DANNY J. BAKWELL, SR.

CHAIRMAN, BAKWELL MEDIA AND THE BAKWELL COMPANY

Danny J. Bakewell, Sr. is the chairman of Bakewell Media, with media holdings that include WBOK Radio in New Orleans, Louisiana, and the Los Angeles Sentinel and the L.A. Watts Times newspapers. As executive publisher of the Los Angeles Sentinel, the oldest and largest African American-owned newspaper on the West Coast and the nation's Number One Black Newspaper, Bakewell was elected chairman of the National Newspapers Publishers Association. He has since been named chairman emeritus of the prestigious association, which consists of over 200 African American newspapers throughout the country.

Through the Los Angeles Sentinel, Bakewell created “Taste of Soul,” which in its 11th year is considered one of the largest street family festivals in Los Angeles. Bakewell and his wife, CSUDH alumna Aline Bakewell, Esq. (B.A. '75), founded the Sabriya's Castle of Fun Foundation in memory of their youngest daughter who lost her life to leukemia. The Foundation has established hospital programs throughout the country to assist children with life-threatening illnesses.

As chairman of The Bakewell Company, one of the largest African American-owned development companies in the country, Bakewell has led multi-million-dollar revitalization efforts in the cities of Los Angeles, Compton, and other California communities. As a developer, Bakewell has breathed economic life into communities when few had the vision, tenacity, or belief in these areas or the residents who lived there.

Bakewell is a long-time advocate of civil rights and social justice, beginning with his move to Los Angeles in the late 1960s. He is a founding member, current board chairman, and former president and chief executive officer of the Brotherhood Crusade, a Los Angeles-based civil rights and community development organization. In his 35 years leading the organization, the Brotherhood Crusade grew to become one of the largest non-profit organizations in Southern California. It annually distributes over $65 million in grants and technical support to small local non-profits in the African American community of South Los Angeles.

Bakewell is a three-time NAACP Image Award winner and a Southern Christian Leadership Martin Luther King, Jr. Award recipient. He has been inducted into the International Civil Rights Walk of Fame, and has received numerous awards, including the JFK Profiles in Courage Award by the Democratic Party, the U.S. Congressional Black Caucus Adam Clayton Powell Award, and the Roy Wilkins Award. In 2015, California State University, Dominguez Hills awarded Mr. Bakewell its Community Builder Award for his exemplary citizenship and contributions that have greatly impacted the region.

DEBORAH FLINT

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER, LOS ANGELES WORLD AIRPORTS

Deborah Flint was appointed chief executive officer of Los Angeles World Airports (LAWA) in June 2015, with oversight of Los Angeles International (LAX) and Van Nuys (VNY) airports. With over 3,000 employees serving 80.9 million passengers in 2016, LAX is currently the fourth busiest airport in the world.

Flint leads the team responsible for creating a world class airport that is a modern reflection of today's global society. Her responsibilities involve managing the $8.5 billion LAX modernization project, the largest public works project in the history of Los Angeles. Included is a $5.5 million rail program that will seamlessly connect public transportation to the airport and decrease congestion. She also oversees the development and advancement of security policies and strategies that exceed federal security regulations and provide world-class law enforcement for the protection of the public.

Additionally, Flint continues to position VNY, one of the world's busiest general aviation airports, as a vital community partner that contributes more than $1.3 billion each year to the Southern California economy.

Flint came to LAWA from the Port of Oakland, where she held the position of aviation director for five years, responsible for management, business development and operation of Oakland International Airport (OAK). While there, she delivered the $480-million BART Airport Rail project; redesigned OAK's customer experience; and marketed, developed and negotiated numerous development and investment transactions in terminal renovation and hangar development.

Flint has served on President Obama's Advisory Committee on Aviation Consumer Protection, and serves on the Oversight Committee of the Transportation Research Board's Airport Cooperative Research Program; is a director on the Airports Council International World Board; is president of the California Airports Council; and serves on the FAA Drone Advisory Committee, which was formed in 2016 to advise the Federal Aviation Administration on unmanned aerial systems.

A proud graduate of the California State University system, Flint earned her Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from San Jose State University.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The tradition of wearing academic gowns, mortarboard caps, tassels and hoods, and the carrying of the University Mace originated in Europe during the middle ages and has been an integral feature of American academic tradition since the end of the nineteenth century. The gown is held to be an adaptation of the robe of the friar or priest; the hood, the monk's cowl; and the mortarboard cap recalls the skull cap.

For each of the degree levels, bachelor's, master's and doctoral, the gown sleeves indicate the degree held by the wearer. The bachelor's gown is a yoked, closed-front garment with long, pointed sleeves. The master's can be worn open or closed and has long sleeves, usually closed but slit above the elbow. The doctoral gown has full, bell-shaped sleeves and is trimmed with velvet panels down the front and has velvet bars on each sleeve. The color of the panels and bars is often varied to indicate the academic discipline in which the doctoral degree was earned. The length and shape of the hood also indicate the highest degree earned by the wearer. The color of the velvet border on any hood indicates the wearer's field of study.

Color is an important element of all academic ceremonies. In academics, the colors used to symbolize degrees earned and areas of study are referred to as "faculty colors." They are displayed on doctoral gowns, edgings of hoods, and tassels on caps. The official faculty colors are:

Agriculture – Maize	Music – Pink
Arts and Letters – White	Nursing – Apricot
Business, Accountancy, Commerce – Drab	Oratory (Speech) – Silver Gray
Dentistry – Lilac	Pharmacy – Olive Green
Economics – Copper	Philosophy – Dark Blue
Education – Light Blue	Physical Education – Sage Green
Engineering – Orange	Public Administration – Peacock Blue
Fine Arts – Brown	Public Health – Salmon Pink
Forestry – Russet	Science – Golden Yellow
Journalism – Crimson	Social Work – Citron
Law – Purple	Theology – Scarlet
Library Science – Lemon Yellow	Veterinary Science – Gray
Medicine – Green

SYMBOLS OF OFFICE

THE MACE

The University Mace is a symbol of the legal and chartered authority of the president of the university. When the mace is present, the authority of the university is present. Carrying the University Mace is an immense honor reserved for a highly distinguished faculty member.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CHAIN

The University Seal forms the centerpiece of the ceremonial chain worn by the president of the university. Nine gold medallions, each inscribed with the name and years of tenure, represent a prior president of the university and form a chain symbolizing the continuity of university traditions. A crest inscribed with the name of the current president of the university sits at the base of the chain, linking the chain of medallions to the University Seal. The Presidential Chain was first presented to CSU Dominguez Hills President Herbert L. Carter at the 1999 Commencement.

ALUMNI PINNING CEREMONY

To reinforce to graduates that they will forever be Toros, the California State University, Dominguez Hills Commencement concludes with an Alumni Pinning Ceremony, which is lead by a distinguished alumni.

The Alumni Pinning Ceremony highlights the accomplishments of CSUDH graduates while acknowledging their transition into the active Toro network of alumni. This exclusive affiliation draws strength from “Toro Pride,” a feeling of collective energy and belonging that is critical to the growth of CSUDH’s new alumni, and the continued success of the university.

Graduates will be instructed to take the Toro Alumni Pin they received as they walked down the platform and place it on the gown of a graduate at the end of the commencement ceremony as a symbol of change. It signifies the scholarly achievements of CSUDH students, and foretells a rich and rewarding future after graduation as alumni. It is also a lasting emblem of legacy and tradition for California State University, Dominguez Hills.

ONCE A TORO. ALWAYS A TORO.
