The Position

An assistant professor at the computer science department of CSUDH is to 1) teach various undergraduate and graduate courses offered by the programs on computer science, information technology, computer technology, and cybersecurity, 2) research on related topics to those programs, and 3) advise students and engage in services at department, college, university, and the system levels.

Responsibilities

The responsibilities of the tenure-track position include teaching, research, and service. Teaching duties may consist of day, evening, and weekend hours. Additional responsibilities include research and service consistent with the mission of the University, the College of Natural and Behavioral Sciences, and the Department of Computer Science. Published research in support of this goal is expected and is a requirement for tenure and promotion.

Qualifications

Required Qualifications

- Applicants must have experience in teaching and working with colleagues from diverse age, socioeconomic, cultural, and academic backgrounds.

- Earned doctorate in Computer Science (or in a closely related discipline with extensive background in Computer Science) is required at the time of appointment.

Preferred Qualifications

- Preference will be given to those with evidence of excellence in teaching and record of published or funded research in mainstream Computer Science, including Cyber Security, Computer Networks, Mobile Computing, Data Sciences, and other mainstream subjects of computer science and technology.
- Candidates with exceptionally strong published or funded research records in other core areas of mainstream Computer Science will be given preference if their teaching expertise meets department's current instructional needs. Industry experience in one or more of the above areas is desirable.

Employment Requirement – Background Check

Satisfactory completion of a background check (including a criminal records check) is required for employment. CSU will make a conditional offer of employment, which may be rescinded if the background check reveals disqualifying information, and/or it is discovered that the candidate knowingly withheld or falsified information. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the continued employment of a current CSU employee who was conditionally offered the position.

Mandated Reporter Per CANRA

The person holding this position is considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act (CANRA) and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083, revised July 21, 2017, as a condition of employment.
