ToroAlert Emergency Notification System

Person ID

What is Emergency Notification System

The "ToroAlert" emergency notification system is a service provided by the University to students, faculty and staff to receive an alert in the event of an emergency on campus. Those who provide contact information will receive a phone call, text message (SMS), and/or an email message providing information about the emergency. This timely notification could help self lives; don't be the last to know. To alert you in a time of crisis, please provide your contact information below. CSUDH will never sell or share your emergency contact information. For more information about "ToroAlert," click ToroAlert FAQ

Your Contact Information

(e.g: 310 345 6789)

Telephone Number    Your cell phone number (or other emergency number).

Text Message (sms)    Your cell phone number (may be the same as above).

Email Address

To opt out of the Emergency Notification System, please check this box.
IMPORTANT NOTE: If you opt out, emergency notifications will be sent ONLY to your university-provided email address.

Please review your contact information for accuracy before pressing the Save button. Updates to the emergency notification contact information are the responsibility of the subscriber and not of the University.

The ToroAlert system attempts to contact you in the following order:

1. Cell phone
2. Text message (SMS)
3. Work phone
4. Email
5. Home phone

If you do not have one of these contact types in your records, the system will select the next available type in the list.
