

How to Write a Literature Review

Research literature reviews are essential towards demonstrating the substantive impact of your own work by illustrating how your research adds to the already existing narrative within your research topic. In this informative workshop, students will learn the various aspects and significance of a research literature review, and the process of properly writing a literature review.

Join us!

June 15 | 1 PM

Facilitated by:
Ms. Monique Turner, MA
Department of Psychology

Click HERE to Register!