Grand Opening

We are so excited to share with the Toro community our new space! There are computers and work stations for students to utilize! We are located on the North 4th Floor Library and we can't wait to see you all!

A Message from the Director

This is an exciting time for the Office of Undergraduate Research (OUR). We will be continuing the successful workshops established in previous years and have been able to expand the funding opportunities we can offer students. This summer, we were able to fund 21 summer researchers to work on research projects with their faculty mentors. Many students pursue research as a pathway to preparing for graduate school or research careers, but now it can also pay you like a job. Your research is valuable, and we want to recognize you for your hard work.

If you are already doing research, the OUR is here to help you with funding for research supplies and conference attendance as well as poster printing (another new offering!). You can schedule a meeting with myself or Tigress Briggs-Wroten to get one-on-one advising on applying to graduate school and securing funding. We are here to support your departmental mentor to give you diversified mentoring and support for the next stage in your research career.

If you are only considering participating in research at CSUDH, we are also here to help! We help students find appropriate research mentors and the resources to support that research. Come have a chat with us about your career goals, and we can help you figure out the best path to get you there.

Research opportunities are available to all students at CSUDH—not just those on the honor roll. Participating in research is associated with students finishing their degrees on time, having better opportunities at graduation, and a greater sense of connection and community to their university. It's a win-win-win. Come visit the OUR in our new location on the 4th floor of the North Library to discuss how we can support your goals.
