

Integrating Multiple Sources: Worksheet

1. Document larger trends first:

1). Would some authors disagree with other authors? How?

---

2). Would some authors agree with other authors? How?

---

2. Extract general themes or shared characteristics among your research by comparing and contrasting the sources:

1). Maybe the authors focused on different aspects of a single problem?

2). Perhaps they focused on different demographics in their research?

---

3). Did they conduct their research in similar or different settings or contexts?

---

4). Did they recommend similar or different tactics or solutions?

---

5). Did they draw out similar or different implications of research?

---

6). Did some authors springboard from other authors' research? How?

---

7). Do you observe any other shared themes or characteristics?

---

8). Maybe your topic is hotly contested, and authors simply do not agree on a single interpretation?

---
