

Labor Studies Fall 2022 Schedule • www.csudh.edu/laborstudies

Title and Description	CRN, Dates, Times, Location
LBR 200: Labor and the Environment Explore the complex relationships between labor/work, the environment, and capitalism and the State, with specific attention to the effects of capitalism and environmental inequality in the modern world.	LBR 200-01 MW 10 – 11:15 AM (CRN 40199) In person LBR 200-02 MW 2:30 – 3:45 PM (CRN 40200), In person Professor Steve McFarland LBR 200-41 Online-asynchronous (CRN 41957)
LBR 310 Success and Values Investigate dominant values, particularly in the U.S., with special emphasis on the notion of “success” in this critical course that asks how, historically, certain notions (but not other ones) become dominant and how those notions function.	LBR 310-01 TTh 11:30-12:45 (CRN 40201) LBR 310-02 TTh 1 – 2:15 PM (CRN 40202)
LBR 314-41 The American Dream Explore this fraught and contested concept, its outside role in politics, its connection to land and to labor, and place in a system of racial exclusion through events here in Los Angeles itself.	Online-asynchronous (CRN 41958)
LBR 312-01 Decade of the 60s Learn the cultural and political history of the American 1960’s through the lens of labor, including the Chicano Movement, the war in Vietnam and its dissidents, the queer liberation front, and more—and the conservative backlash to each.	LBR 312-01 MW 11:30 - 12:415 AM (CRN 40203) LBR 312-02 TTh 1 – 2:15 PM (CRN 40204)
LBR 411-61 Contracts and Negotiations Learn the process of negotiating for higher wages and better working conditions under state and federal law. Topics include collective bargaining, contract clauses, arbitration, and strikes.	Saturday 1:30 – 5:30 PM (CRN 40205), Meets: 9/3, 9/10, 9/17, 9/24, 10/1, 10/8, 10/15
LBR 495-61 Special Topics: Worker Rights What is the minimum wage? Whose job is it to ensure no one dies or sickens at work? What makes a job “good,” and what barriers exist to creating and supporting good jobs? This course will cover the fundamental principles, laws and philosophies surrounding Workers’ Rights in the U.S. and California.	Saturday 1:30 – 5:30 PM (CRN 40206) Meets: 10/22, 10/29; 11/5, 11/12, 11/19; 12/3, 12/10

For pre-approved electives in other departments, click here: <https://www.csudh.edu/labor-studies/ba-requirements/>

- Register on mycsudh.edu as soon as you are able (help us avoid having classes cancelled!)
- Pay your fees on time to avoid being dropped.
- Major, minor, or certificate students (or those interested):
 - Review your requirements on mycsudh’s “Academic Requirements” page
 - Call, email, or visit Labor Studies for an advising appointment to assure that you are continuing to fulfill all requirements for graduation. After your advising is complete, your academic advisor will lift the registration hold.