OUR HISTORY

- Omega Phi Chi is a multicultural sorority that was founded on November 9, 1988 at Rutgers University, New Brunswick in New Jersey by eight women of Asian, African-American, and Latina descent. Our eight founding mothers were an active group of young women leaders who felt the absence of any organization on the Rutgers campus that spoke to their needs across diverse backgrounds, distinct cultural roots and a commitment to womanhood. Omega Phi Chi dared to be different. They came together to found a multicultural sorority, a different type of organization, that would not be categorized by ethnicity or culture.
- Omega Phi Chi Multicultural Sorority, Inc. is one of the founding organizations of the National Multicultural Greek Council (NMGC). Established in 1998, the NMGC is an umbrella council for a coalition of Multicultural Greek-letter organizations (MGLOs). The purpose of NMGC is to provide a forum that allows for the free exchange of ideas, programs, and services between its constituent fraternities and sororities; to promote the awareness of multicultural diversity within collegiate institutions, their surrounding communities, and the greater community-at-large, and to support and promote the works of its member organizations.

Our Purpose

The overall purpose of Omega Phi Chi is to generate unity among all women. We believe that we can promote ethnic diversity by integrating women across all boundaries and cultures. Through the common bond of womanhood, we are then able to nurture our ideas of sisterhood. Among our ideas of sisterhood are the concepts of love, honesty, loyalty, mutual respect, and the responsibility of one another. After unity, the main objectives of this organization are academic excellence and involvement in community affairs. Education plays a vital role throughout the course of one's lifetime; therefore, through the aid of donations, scholarships, and the shared efforts of our sisters, we can propel one another towards various career goals and aspirations. We aim to promote positivity and an improved outlook on life, as well as foster opportunities to improve one's standard of living.

*Our core values are:
Involvement in Community Affairs*

Maximizing development in academics also enhances the intellectual capabilities of our members and contributes to the skills available to service our humanitarian efforts and service the communities in which we reside. Involvement in Community Affairs is achieved through hosting educational programs, supporting philanthropic causes, and participating in a number of community service projects in our areas.

Our Mottos

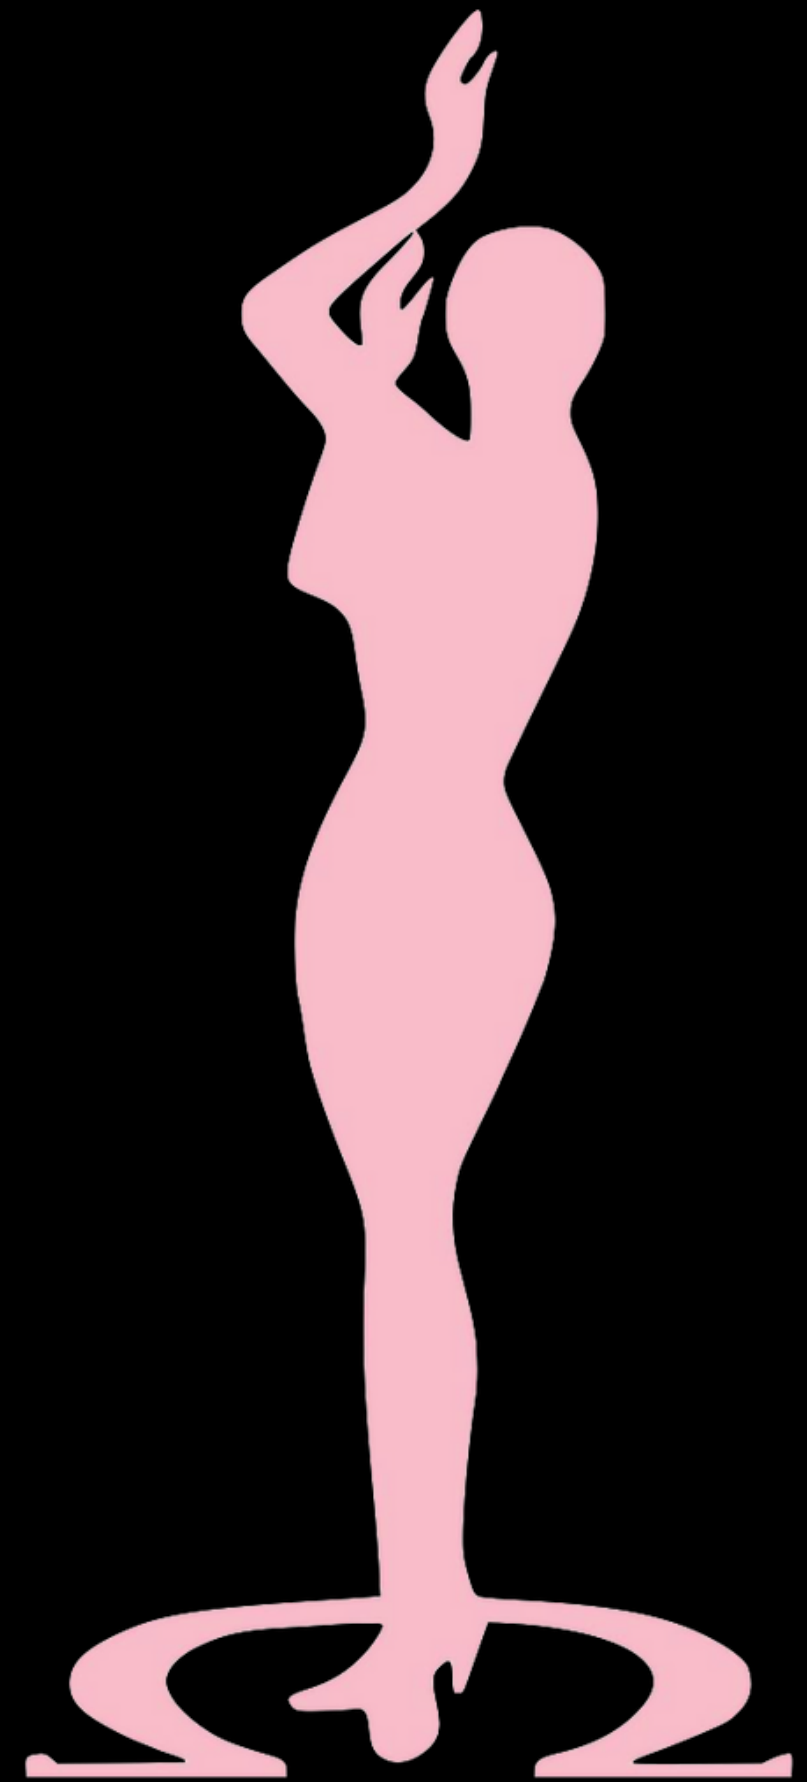

Destroying all Boundaries.

Uniting All Races.
