The Office of Student Life

The Office of Student Life (OSL) provides student leadership initiatives, student organization development, and programs and services that foster campus involvement, personal growth and student learning. OSL is your partner in your success. The Office of Student Life houses the following areas: Clubs and Organizations, Leadership Programs, and Greek Life.

Clubs and Organizations:

Getting involved in a student club or organization enhances your overall experience here at CSUDH. Student clubs and organizations address a wide range of issues, plan a countless number of events and work to improve the overall campus environment. Last year, student organizations planned more than 1,400 meetings, fundraisers, socials, educational workshops and community service events.

Leadership Programs:

Our goal is to create, facilitate and foster leadership learning opportunities and experiences for all students including our signature program, Passport to Leadership

Greek Life:

Fraternities and Sororities are dedicated to academic excellence, community service and developing a welcoming campus environment. Joining a Greek organization is an excellent way to meet people, get acclimated to campus life, gain important leadership skills, have fun, and establish life-long friendships.

Student Organization Leadership

The Office of Student Life (OSL) believes that a valuable part of student education lies in co-curricular involvement in student organizations. OSL staff coordinates recognition and orientation of all student organizations, including dissemination of information to various campus departments through Toro Link. This includes providing information to individuals inquiring about starting new student organizations and serving as the official liaison to Greek-letter organizations.

Participation in activities where leadership, political, professional, honor, community responsibility, intellectual, religious, and social interests can be enriching and complimentary to your college education. This is why in addition to providing organization support, OSL coordinates student organization training, advisor orientation, and publishes the Clubs and Organizations Resource Guide and assists in the development of co-curricular programs with various members of the University faculty and departments. Students are encouraged to contact a Student Life staff member to discuss organization issues including, but not limited to, team building, program planning strategies, officer training, officer transitions, recruitment, and conflict management. Staff members are also available to conduct individual workshops with student organizations to develop members' skills.

Annual Events

University Programming strives to provide social, educational, and recreational programs that create opportunities for campus involvement, intellectual growth, and personal development for students. These programs compliment the educational curriculum of Cal State Dominguez Hills with a primary goal of enhancing the college experience in collaboration with students, faculty, and staff. Many of the programs and activities at Cal State Dominguez Hills are student initiated. The Office of Student Life programming staff maintains a very active role in shaping and supporting many of CSUDH's traditions such as Welcome Week and Homecoming.

Leadership Development and Educational Programs:

The Office of Student Life provides all students at CSUDH the opportunity to explore and enhance their leadership abilities so that they may become active, principled leaders within their communities.

OSL coordinates a comprehensive program in leadership education and development for the CSUDH community. The initiatives provide students with a variety of experiences through workshops, classes, conferences/retreats, and individually focused services.

These offerings challenge students to learn about themselves and others, thus empowering them to shape their own future and become tomorrow's leaders.

The Leadership Development and Education Programs include a variety of initiatives to serve all leaders:

- LEAD Retreat
- Student Officer Orientation
- Passport to Leadership: Leadership development certificate workshop series
- President's Student Leadership and Service Awards

Students are expected to be good citizens and to engage in responsible behaviors that reflect well upon their university, to be civil to one another and to others in the campus community, and contribute positively to student and university life.

Club Advisor(s):

Duties and Responsibilities

All student clubs and organizations must have at least one (1) advisor to advise their club or organization for the academic year. Advisors play an important role in student’s clubs and organizations. They volunteer to work with student clubs and organizations because they feel they can contribute and assist in the student club and organization’s success. Advisors are able to provide information about the student club and organization and the University. Furthermore, they act as liaisons with various campus departments and offices. Throughout the academic year, they are able to offer support and advice to the members of the student clubs and organizations. Advisors must attend ALL events where it is determined that public safety staffing is necessary. Duties and responsibilities involve but are not limited to:

Assist with the Annual Registration:

- All student organizations must register with the Office of Student Life on an annual basis
- The annual re-chartering deadline to register a student organization is the end of the spring semester
- Advisors should inform new student leaders of the annual registration process

Initiate Communication with Student Leaders:

- Request to be included on all of the organizations’ official correspondence, including emails
- Request the following information from the student leaders:
- Contact information: names, email addresses, phone numbers
- Schedules of key officers
- Meeting schedules (including agendas) in advance of the meetings
- Reports of minutes and events hosted by the student organization
- Maintain open and honest relationships with members about your expectations of them, and your availability to assist them

Attend Meetings and Select Events:

- Attend as many of the group’s meetings and other functions as possible. When the advisor cannot attend a meeting, a sincere effort to determine what occurred should be made
- Attend ALL events where it is determined that PUBLIC SAFETY staffing is necessary. The advisor must be in attendance throughout the event and the event is subject to closure if the advisor is absent. These events are stipulated by the Office of Student Life
- It is the responsibility for the student officers to take into consideration the advisor’s schedule when planning activities. Groups which schedule a full slate of activities may want to consider having more than one advisor

Interpret Policies:

- Assist students in interpreting various University policies, rules and regulations. However, the role of an advisor is not one of “policy officer”.
- If club / organization officers choose to act contrary to the advice of the advisor, the advisor should contact the Office of Student Life and Orgs Resource Room for consultation.

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, DOMINGUEZ HILLS

Clubs and Organizations Resource Guide

Serve as Authorized Signer:

- Serve as an authorized signer for the appropriate financial expenditures of the club. Thoroughly read and understand all budget proposals and event proposals submitted for advisor approval.
- Serve as an authorized signer for scheduling events.

Advisor Liability:

Entering into an agreement to serve as an advisor should not be taken lightly, as advisors share some liability for the actions of the group.

- An advisor should be aware of the planned activities of the group to ensure that they are acting in accordance with appropriate laws, policies, and procedures.
- Advisors of recognized student organizations are insured in most cases acting within the scope of his/her office of employment, and covered by University liability as long as University policies and procedures have been adhered.

Campus Policies:

There are various policies that impact the work of student organizations. As the advisor to the organization, it is crucial that you make the student leaders aware of these policies and help them to work within these parameters. If there is any question, please call the Office of Student Life. We are here to assist.

A new advisor must be named as a replacement and communicated to OSL. The replacement advisor will have to attend a “Student Clubs and Organizations Advisor Training”. Failure to communicate the replacement may lead to suspension.

- The event is sponsored by a recognized campus organization.
- The event has the approval of the appropriate division or department for the use of its facilities by completing the approval requirements with LSU Reservations and Event Services.

Student organizations must complete the Request for University Facilities/Event Planner/Approval Form with LSU Reservations and Event Services first. For more information on reserving university facilities, refer to the facility reservations section in this resource guide.

2. Co-sponsored Events

- Co-sponsored events are initiated and coordinated by university departments or recognized student organizations and are the primary event contact on the reservation request.

Running Effective Meetings

When meetings are efficiently run, more is accomplished and members are happier and more willing to attend and participate. Meetings should give members a chance to discuss and evaluate goals and objectives, keep updated on current events and keep the group cohesive. Most of all, meetings allow groups to pull resources together for decision-making about programs, policies, etc. and to follow-up after the meeting.

There are three basic elements which are essential components of a good meeting:

1. Planning
2. Organization
3. Running the Meeting

1. Planning

Take a few minutes several days before the meeting to think through and decide on the topics to discuss at the meeting. Only discuss things that pertain to the entire group. Do not waste other people’s time by discussing something with a specific person. Do that before or after the meeting. Give some thought to the content of the meeting. It will save time during the meeting.

2. Organization

Establish an agenda. When you develop an agenda, do it at least two days prior to the meeting. As much as possible, involve the general membership and advisor when planning the agenda. Either have members share their input from the previous meeting, or they can email items a day or two before a meeting. This gives the membership an opportunity to help in the planning of the meeting.

3. Running the Meeting

START ON TIME! If the group falls into a bad habit of starting a meeting late, the members will be more likely to arrive late on a regular basis. If a meeting starts on time every time, people will make an effort to arrive on time. Maintain a smooth flowing meeting. Don’t let the meeting get out of control. Have members raise their hand to be recognized.

End the meeting on a high point. Summarize important decisions, make sure assignments are clear. Confirm and remind about the next meeting; review the process for offering agenda times.
